

It is the responsibility of media to be balanced and fair in its presentation of news and views. Do your part, take your responsibility to the American public seriously.